

American Model United Nations International

HISTORIC SECURITY COUNCIL

Regarding: Recent Elections in Cambodia

The President of the Historic Security Council

With great exuberance, the Historic Security Council recognizes the recent peaceful, fair and free elections within the nation of Cambodia as a great achievement. Further, we congratulate the Cambodian people in a successful example of self-determination and the triumph of the human spirit. Thus we welcome the new government: stability, legitimacy, and security with regard to rule of both domestic and international law. We acknowledge that these are achievements of a responsible and civil society. Further, we willingly consider offering our services that the newly elected government may see as supportive of the stability and the efficacy required by the new authority. We encourage all Member States to cooperate in order to ensure a successful transition at this historic juncture.

Passed by Consensus