

American Model United Nations

Historical Security Council

Regarding: Attacks on embassies and the subsequent deaths of American and Belgian Ambassadors

The President of the Security Council

Ambassadors and embassies are an integral part of maintaining international peace and security. Attacks against them are not tolerated. The Security Council condemns actions of this nature which resort to violence in place of dialogue and urges all nations to join with us in this condemnation.

Adopted by consensus.