Recalling the Report of the Secretary General, resolution A/61/256 urging cooperation amongst regional and other organizations,

Supporting the outcome of the Millennium Summit in order to provide multilateral solutions to problems in development, peace and collective security, human rights and the rule of law, and the strengthening of the United Nations,

Believing that the United Nations is the major international body for multilateral cooperation and dialogue,

Commending those member states that have worked proactively and frequently with organizations around the world,

1. Calls upon the member states to strengthen the Committee of Non-Governmental Organizations (CONGO) that would;

(a.) recruit organizations in order to increase the purview of CONGO by bringing Inter-Governmental Organizations (IGO) and regional organizations;

(b.) ensure the enhancement of all present organizations' in CONGO by increasing productivity through global cooperation;

2. Affirms the responsibilities of the committee to include;

(a) fostering communications between the NGOs and the United Nations

(b) ensure the vital existence of an effective multilateral system

(c) providing a venue to efficiently share resources

3. Encourages the increased collaboration of nongovernmental organizations with 32 regional member state(s) in order to foster closer relations with the region(s) they are 33 operating in.
