The Second Committee

1           Recognizing the importance of economic sustainability and development in areas
2 including, but not limited to, the environment, technology, and humanitarian issues,

4           Understanding the importance of industrial development in successful
5 implementation of the Millennium Development Goals by 2015,

7           Fully aware of the intrinsic link between agricultural and industrial development,

9           Encouraging industrial diversification to promote economic stability,

10

11           Convinced of the benefits of increased trade between emerging markets,
12 particularly those located in the global South,

13

14           Further convinced that programs such as the Web of Information for 15 Development (WIDE) and United Nations Industrial Development Organisation
16 (UNIDO) promote the open exchange of technological information,

18           1. Encourages the development of human capital through vastly improved and 19 expanded education and healthcare by:

20

21                   (a) Recommending that the Economic and Social Council and the United 22 Nations Development Programme extend their focus on the improvement of education
23 and healthcare;

24                   (b) Bridging the urban/rural divide by equally allocating resources to both
25 sectors;

25

26           2. Draws attention to the undue burden that industry-specific subsidies and market
27 dumping place on domestic industries in developing countries;

28

29           3. Endorses the potential benefits of South-South Cooperation, specifically in the

30 areas of information and technology transfers that facilitate domestic ownership of capital
31 in order to create sustainable job growth within developing economies;

32

33 4. Encourages consistent trade liberalization policies which promote the free flow
34 of capital across state boundaries and open access to markets for lesser developed
35 countries;

37 5. Supports the establishment of business expositions that allow the transmission
38 of good business practices, development of ethical standards, and demonstration of new
39 technologies;

40

41 6. Recommends further incorporation of the objectives of the Special Unit for 42 South-South Cooperation including:

43

44 (a) Development of partnership triangles for South-South-North

45

46 cooperation and Public-Private-CSO partnerships for financing;
47 (b) The creation of multilateral support platforms that allow for policy
48 dialog on public-private partnerships and Southern development
49 knowledge;

49

(c) Development of additional resources for the transfer of technology such as the successful implementation of the WIDE program.
