4 capacity to withstand and overcome the effects a nuclear disaster,
5

6 Stressing the need for the international community to reconcile the necessity of 7 eliminating the threat of nuclear weapons attacks and nuclear explosions, with the 8 innumerable benefits nuclear energy sources provide,
9

10 Encouraged by inroads made by nuclear agreements including, but not limited to 11 the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) and the Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban
12 Treaty (CTBT), which seek to prevent the spread and growth of nuclear weapons 13 programs and arsenals,

19

20 Expressing appreciation for the CTBT's dedication to national sovereignty and 21 security clearly defined within the plan of implementation of the IMS and the enshrined
22 protection of all information collected by the IDC, which plays a crucial role in integrity 23 of national intelligence, as well as the resolve for all such implementation and 24 verification activities to be conducted in the least intrusive manner possible as defined in 25 Article II of the CTBT, 26

27 Applauding the work done by the CTBT Preparatory Commission in establishing 28 337 certified IMS stations as a part the Global Alarm System, which is capable of not 29 only detecting underground nuclear explosions, but also detecting earthquakes, tsunamis, 30 environmental and geological shifts and the accidental release of radioactive particulates
31 and gasses,
32

33 Noting with approval the Provisional Technical Secretariat's efforts towards the

63 the objective of the Treaty until such a time that ratification is possible, while remaining 64 mindful of Member States' sovereignty and current political situations;

65

66 6. Suggests the creation of a Provisional Secretariat within the CTBT
67 Organization composed of signatories, regardless of ratification status, which shall
