ISSUES AT AMUN 2006

INTRODUCTION

The Issues at AMUN Handbook has been published to assist Representatives in their preparations for the American Model United Nations (AMUN) Conference. When utilized to complement the research students conduct on the nation they represent and the topics of discussion, this handbook provides Representatives with all the substantive information they will require to function effectively at the simulation. Its sister handbook, AMUN Rules and Procedures, provides an overview of the Committee/Council rules and conference logistics with which Representatives need to familiarize themselves for the simulation.

The following pages contain brief overviews of the topics to be discussed in the Committees and Councils at the 2006 Conference. These are intended as a guideline and basis for Representatives' further research of the issues involved. In keeping with this, each overview includes a bibliography to guide Representatives on appropriate sources of additional information.

The overviews give a brief background into each topic and state some areas of current United Nations (UN) and international activity on the topic. In many cases, the overviews will frame the topic in terms of a few, limited parts of a highly complex issue. For example, the general issue of "the Environment" may have dozens of sub-issues -- in such a case, the overview may provide direction for Representatives to concentrate their research on "Ozone Depletion" and "Limiting the Destruction of the Rain Forests," only two of the many smaller issues. This format allows Representatives to go into greater detail in their preparations, without the need to research all aspects of the multifaceted main issue.

Chapter I - The United Nations is provided as essential background to give all Representatives a common ground about the history of the UN. This section begins with the origins of the UN and covers some important points about the organization. Finally, focus is given to problems confronting the UN today.

AMUN's philosophy in providing these topic overviews is to give Representatives direction in their research, but to leave the work up to them. These overviews are not intended to be the sole source of Representatives' research on the topics prior to the conference.

USE OF THE INTERNET

Note that many of the works cited in this Issues at AMUN Handbook are resources located on the World Wide Web. Full text of many of AMUN's periodical sources are available to AMUN participants on-line. Feel free to visit AMUN's homepage at www.amun.org for a full list of recommended research links.

Three on-line sources of particular note are the United Nations homepage, located at www.un.org, the New York Times on-line, located at www.nytimes.com, and the UN Wire, located at www.smartbrief.com/un_wire/. UN Wire is a daily briefing on UN issues provided by the United Nations Foundation; note that UN Wire articles published prior to August, 2004 can be found at www.unwire.org. These sources are heavily referenced throughout the issues briefings in this handbook. Additionally, the on-line copy of this handbook, also available from AMUN's homepage, contains direct links to all available documents cited in the Issues bibliographies. For a more thorough discussion of on-line research sources, see "Utilizing the Internet" on page 13 of the AMUN Rules and Procedures Handbook.

THE PURVIEW OF EACH SIMULATION

Each of the following simulation background sections begins with a brief discussion of the "purview" of that simulation. This is a general overview of what types of discussions that simulation might have on the topics in question. This is extremely important in the UN system, where a variety of different Committees and Councils may discuss different aspects of the solution to an international problem. Representatives should exercise great care in researching a topic, and when deliberating should focus on the piece of a problem that is considered by their simulation. These should be considered a guideline for the discussions of each body.

The Palestinian question is an excellent example of this in action. The First Committee might discuss aspects of the situation dealing with weapons shipments. At the same time, the Second Committee may discuss a variety of financing initiatives to help the Palestinian Authority. Similarly, the Third Committee, or in some case ECOSOC, might discuss the social and humanitarian considerations that arise from Israeli occupation of various territories. And the Sixth Committee may discuss legal implications of past agreements, or the impact of terrorism on the situation. Only the GA Plenary Session would discuss the problem in its entirety, including the possible creation of a legal Palestinian State or member status for that State. And the Security Council would deal with any peace and security issues that it deemed appropriate on the situation. Thus it can be seen from this one situation that different aspects of a problem are regularly discussed in different bodies. More importantly, at the UN delegations are typically careful to only discuss those aspects relevant to their own Committee/Council, leaving other aspects for others in their delegation.
