

American Model United Nations Conference Preparation Newsletter

31 October 2018

International Court of Justices Applications are Closed The ICJ is Full!

Greetings from the AMUN Secretariat. This email is to inform you that we have filled all available slots for ICJ Justices at the 2018 AMUN Conference. If you'd like to be put on a waiting list in case of cancellations please let us know immediately by emailing us at mail@amun.org.

Positions Still Available with IPD and COI

If you have students who'd still like to participate at AMUN we have spaces available with the International Press Delegation \(IPD\) and the Commission on Inquiry of 2005 \(COI05\). Each of these simulations is a first-come, first-serve applicant based participation. Generally, only one person from a school can participate on COI, unless there are open seats as we approach the start of Conference. Generally, we accept up to two IPD Registrations per school unless there are open seats as we approach Conference. These simulations work best when all seats are filled, so if you have students looking for an engaging simulation that differs from the norm, please encourage them to consider these.

Countries Still Available

We still have open Member States for representation at AMUN 2018. Check our list of available countries online. As a reminder, we ask that you have at minimum enough students to seat the General Assembly Plenary, the Four General Assembly Committees and any other bodies on which a nation is seated before registering for another country, that's at minimum five (5) students needed for an additional country.
