

American Model United Nations Conference Alert

08 November 2018

Position Papers & Spots Still Open with IPD & COI

Greetings from the AMUN Secretariat. Conference is just around the corner and while you're doing your last minute prep, please take time to review the excellent work that students from across the globe put into their position papers.

Position Papers Are ONLINE!

All of the Position Papers submitted are now live on the AMUN website. We strongly encourage all delegates read the position papers on the topics in the simulations they're participating in; it's an excellent way to prepare for debate at Conference and may give them some new ideas for any resolutions or reports they will be writing. The deadline for late submission of Position Papers is tomorrow, 09 November at 5:00 p.m. Central Standard Time.

Positions Still Available with IPD and COI

If you have students who'd still like to participate at AMUN we have spaces available with the International Press Delegation \(IPD\) and the Commission on Inquiry of 2005 \(COI05\). Each of these simulations is a first-come, first-serve applicant based participation. Generally, only one person from a school can participate on COI, unless there are open seats as we approach the start of Conference. Generally, we accept up to two IPD Registrations per school unless there are open seats as we approach Conference. These simulations work best when all seats are filled, so if you have students looking for an engaging simulation that differs from the norm, please encourage them to consider these.
