

American Model United Nations Conference Preparation Newsletter 20-23 November 2021

08 November 2021

Spaces Still Available in AMUN's Virtual Simulations

Greetings from the AMUN Secretariat. With the AMUN conference rapidly approaching, we're reaching out to all participating schools past and present to remind you that we still have seats open on AMUN's virtual simulations. If you have a student that can't travel at the last minute or who have joined your program late and are part of

Reminder of Vaccination Requirements for Attendance

This is a reminder that all in-person AMUN participants must be fully vaccinated to participate in the 2021 Conference. Per the AMUN communication dated 1 November. That communication can be found online at the AMUN website under conference mailings, or by clicking HERE. Participants will not be able to pick up their credentials without vaccination verification.

AMUN's Virtual Simulations

AMUN is hosting virtual committees along with our in-person conference! If traveling to Chicago just isn't an option this year or you only have a few students participating— check out the virtual option! Hosted simultaneously to the conference in Chicago, your students will participate in virtual AMUN from Saturday evening to Monday evening and have three days to deliberate, draft resolutions and form a consensus.

The virtual sessions this year will be General Assembly Plenary and the Commission on Population and Development (CPD). You can view our online handbook for more details on the topic areas for each committee.

Virtual Simulation Fees

Delegation fees for the virtual conference are greatly reduced! Your first 5 delegations reserved are $25 each. Additional delegations can be added at no additional cost. Per delegate fees are $58 each.

Ready to register? Checkout the available countries for our virtual sessions - the countries for our virtual sessions are completely separate from the physical conference. Then head on over to our online registration page. Hope to see you there!
