

American Model United Nations Conference Conference Alert 18-21 November 2023

8 November 2023

Email Sent in Error. Non-Award Deadline has Passed.

Greetings from the AMUN Secretariat. In an email sent this morning, we incorrectly stated that the position paper awards were available to view and that position papers were now online on our website. That is an error. You will receive a separate email when awards and position papers are available for viewing.

The earlier email did correctly state that the final Position Paper Deadline has passed. Position paper submission is now closed. Thank you to all participating schools for submitting position papers in advance

Our apologies for any confusion the earlier email may have caused. We are looking forward to seeing you all in Chicago in 10 days.

Good luck on your preparations,
